

Why Choose Crescent College?

Crescent College is proud to consider itself the first private vocational training center in LA County to “step up to the plate” and put the needs of the community first.

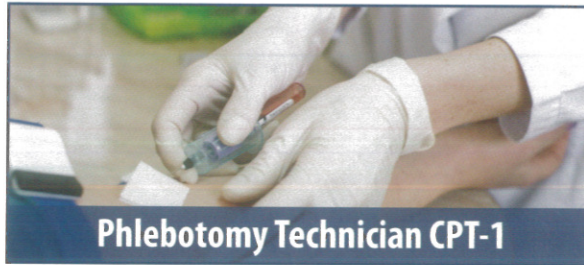

Students are able to take advantage of quality, affordable education while avoiding taking on large debt (federal student loans) when they retrain for a new career.

Healthcare Career Training

Crescent College offers various Allied Health Training programs for those who are interested and have a passion to help others in need.
